Territo's Now Agent For Casperson Products

During the past five years the firm of O. Casperson & Sons, distributors of Buttercup Butter and Casperson's Strictly Fresh Eggs, have made it possible for consumers of their products to get cash awards totaling nearly $20,000.

So that the consumers of this territory may share in $400 monthly cash awards, Territo's Super Markets have secured the exclusive agency in both Redwood City and San Carlos for Buttercup Butter and Casperson Eggs.

Emerald Lake Man Dies at Police Station

William R. Fogle, 62, Emerald Lakes resident, collapsed and died in the Redwood City Police Station Tuesday after driving his car to the city hall and asking for assistance. According to Police Chief C. L. Collins, Mr. Fogle arrived at 2:55 a.m., explaining that he was a victim of heart trouble and that he wished to be taken to a doctor.

Police took the man to a doctor who advised Mr. Fogle to go to a hospital. Upon his return to the police station Mr. Fogle made arrangements for disposal of his car and was awaiting a taxi to take him to a hospital when he collapsed suddenly and died.

Deputy Coroner Lewis E. Franklin said a post mortem examination would be made this afternoon. So far as could be determined Mr. Fogle left no relatives. Attempts were being made to contact a divorced wife in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Fogle came to Redwood City in 1938 from San Francisco. He was employed doing such odd jobs as his health permitted. He and his former wife, Mary E. Fogle, separated Oct. 10, 1940, when she returned to the Middle West.

MENLO PARK — Interest is gaining in the municipal election Apr. 14. Now there are three candidates spoken of for town trustee. Every section of the city has a candidate, among them a woman. Why not? Women have proven time and again that they are capable and efficient in executive positions. Why not place a few on the Menlo Park board?

TOX-ELIMINATION if taken in time, may forestall a surgical operation

Most eminent authorities contend that 90 per cent of all chronic diseases are due, in most cases, to pollution of the blood stream via improper function of the Colon, small INTESTINES, overtaxed kidneys, etc. In most cases a functional disorder causes constipation. To get at the bottom and basic cause of a large number of ailments that have heretofore resisted the best efforts of all branches of healing, I have installed the remarkable TOX-ELIMINATOR. This instrument by removing the disease producing materials at their foundation head in the intestines, enables the body to stop further damage and rebuild the affected parts and restore them to normal. Causes of irritation and numerous infections are removed. The TOX-ELIMINATION treatment is pleasant and not embarrassing. It is leak and odor-proof because the entire process takes place under watertight and airtight conditions. It has no disagreeable features whatsoever, nothing that might offend a person of the most fastidious taste and sensitiveness.

This Natural, Drugless Therapy Accomplishes the Following:

1. Cleanses both large and small bowel, thoroughly and in harmless manner.
2. Massages the bowel and gives necessary tone to tissues involved.
3. Its employment of oxygen destroys the anaerobic germs, which cannot live in this medium.
4. Purifies the blood stream; proved by microscopic examination after treatment.
5. Relieves rheumatism, arthritic and neuritic pain, often in one treatment.
6. Reduces hypertension or high blood pressure, thus easing the work of the heart and freeing the walls of its cells, and the brain, from undue strain.
7. Indicates to patients what foods to avoid, to insure maximum efficiency in digestion.
8. Lessens the burden thrown on the liver and kidneys.
9. Re-establishes a normal peristalsis, or natural muscular activity of the intestines.
10. Improves sinus and antrum complications in a few treatments.
11. Insures a good complexion, by eliminating causes of poor complexion from the blood.
12. Assists in preventing the hardening of the arteries, by minimizing the deposits of calcium and magnesium salts on arterial wall.

This doctor has been engaged for this Health Week, and is an expert in the manipulation of the TOX-ELIMINATOR. He is a member of the Clinical Staff of the Gordon West Coast Distributors of Los Angeles and will assist in all procedures during the week. . . . As we can handle only a limited number of consultation and treatments per day, it is necessary that appointments be made in advance. We suggest that you make your appointment as early as possible, as all available consultation periods will be filled within a short time. TAKE ADVANTAGE TODAY OF THIS OPPORTUNITY OF GETTING AT THE BOTTOM OF YOUR TROUBLE. If it should be necessary to employ X-ray to assist in the diagnosis of your case, this service will be available at a nominal fee.

California-Grown Sugar Used at Cooking School

How California fruits, combined with finest-quality California-grown granulated beet sugar, make delicious jellies, jams and preserves, will be shown at McKinley School Auditorium next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Miss Kay Gilbert, the Home Economist in charge, announced today.

Housewives are invited to enter a contest for ribbon awards by submitting (1) jellies, or (2) jams or preserves, including marmalade. Entries from last year's canning season will be accepted, the only requirement being that you shall have used California-grown beet sugar in the making, either American Crystal, or Holly, or Spreckels Honey-Dew. Bring your entries to the cooking school before the second day's session. Entries will be judged for exterior appearance, texture, flavor and clearness.

Katherine Kerry, home economist for the California-Grown Sugar Group, supplies for the Tribune this recipe:

ORANGE MARMALADE

Three cups of thinly sliced unpeeled California oranges, 3 cups of thinly sliced unpeeled California lemons, 18 cups of water, California-grown beet sugar.

Combine the fruit and water and let stand for 24 hours. Boil 10 minutes. Again let stand for 24 hours. Divide the mixture and cook only 2 cups at a time. Add 2 cups of beet sugar for each two cups of fruit. Boil vigorously until the syrup gives the jelly test of thick, reluctant drops which sheet together from a spoon. The time may vary from 12 to 18 minutes.

When a wide kettle is used and exaporation is rapid, the shorter cooking time will suffice. Cook a few minutes and stir to prevent the fruit from floating. Pour into hot, sterilized jelly glasses. Seal immediately with paraffin.

Java, Netherlands Indies, is one of the most intensively cultivated regions in the world, according to the Department of Commerce.

Bighorn sheep prefer sweet mountain grasses and flowers and eat coarse food only when grasses are not available.

NEW CHOCOLATE CHIP CAKE

¾ cup Crisco	3 cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar	3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt	1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla	5 egg whites

1 cup semi-sweet chocolate, chipped fine

When you blend Crisco, it's a joyful surprise! Crisco's not like shortening you have to keep chilled stiff in the icebox—it's as creamy as can be! Blends so easily!

Blend first four ingredients. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk. Stir in ½ cup chocolate chips.

Pardon the interruption, but do notice how much smoother and glossier cake batter you get with Crisco!

Beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Fold into batter. Pour into 8-inch "Criscoed" and floured tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour. Remove from oven; sprinkle remaining ½ cup chocolate chips on top of cake; return to oven to melt. Spread over top while warm. Remove from pan and cool. Frost cake with your favorite white icing.

Crisco gives you lighter cakes than any shortening we know of.

SAVE VITAMINS FOR HEALTH

Food conservation on the home front has always been important in wartime. A well nourished people is an unconquerable people. Napoleon once tried to starve out England. Now Hitler is trying it, but the women of England beat that Nazi stratagem at their cook stoves. Now American housewives can help win this war by saving vitamins for health and victory.

Cook vegetables in little water. Do not destroy vitamins by frequent pot-stirring. Save vegetable water in a stock-pot for soups or stews. Roast meats at low temperature to conserve minerals and vitamins.

If your present range won't see you through the war it would be wise to consider a new one. Besides doing the job right a modern range will save on food and fuel at every cooking operation. If you wish, you can have easy payment terms up to 18 months. Learn about modern cooking methods for health protection.

Berkeley Campus News

Several Graduate Students At U.C. Are From This City

BERKELEY (Special to the Tribune)—On the University of California campus is still one student, the son of a Redwood City resident, who went to the Rose Bowl way back in 1937 with the California football team—but he played in the band.

Though it seems a long time ago to other California fans, Alfred Glathe, '41, son of William H. Glathe of Redwood City, still remembers that trip South. Glathe was only a freshman in the band then but he got to see the game and "to march all over the field." Now he's a graduate student with the degree of bachelor of arts.

Glathe, a student of philosophy, graduated in May and returned to the University in the Fall to take graduate work in preparation for a master's degree. Further to aid his preparation for a second degree he became a teaching assistant in Philosophy 6A, a basic course for lower division students.

Temporarily deferred because of his eyes, Glathe expects to finish at least this semester before he's inducted into the army.

MINISTER'S DAUGHTER

Another graduate at the University, formerly from Redwood City, is Mrs. Joan Habis-Reutinger, the daughter of the Rev. Edwin Casteldin, one-time minister of the Episcopal Church in Redwood City.

Mrs. Habis-Reutinger, a graduate of Sequoia High School in 1933, moved to Berkeley that Fall to attend the University of California. At the university she studied music for 4½ years and then married and moved to San Diego. In 1939 she returned to the university where her husband began study for the degree of doctor of philosophy. Her husband is also an instructor in Subject A at the university.

Mrs. Habis-Reutinger, holder of an M.A. degree, is herself an instructor in music in the university's extension division and the conductor of several night courses in naturalization at two high schools in the Bay Area.

While an undergraduate student she played tennis and won her class numerals in several triangular matches with Mills College and Stanford. She also reached the finals of an intramural tennis tournament at the university and was intramural tennis manager for one year. Since she has started teaching at the university she has won two summer session tennis matches.

FATHER IN PLACERVILLE

Mrs. Habis-Reutinger's father, the Rev. Mr. Castledin, is a British subject although he is living in Placerville now and has spent much of his life in California. During the Summer of 1935 he left Redwood City with his wife to return to England. He stayed in England almost five years whereupon he was sent by the British government to Belize, British Honduras, as a missionary. In British Honduras he contracted malaria and had to leave. He and his wife then returned to California where they took up a residence in Placerville.

Still another graduate student at the University of California from Redwood City is Miss Ruth Rhoda, '40, the daughter of John W. Rhoda, now residing in Berkeley. Miss Rhoda received her A.B. degree in May, 1940, and is now studying to get a teaching credential in physical education.

During her four undergraduate years at the university Miss Rhoda was a member of the Women's Athletic Association and the women's all-star hockey team and was the publicity chairman of the Calvin Club in her junior year and president in her senior year.

Miss Rhoda is now social chairman of the University Westminister Club, co-chairman of the American square dance group on the campus, and teacher of recreational leadership at the First Presbyterian Church in Berkeley.

Modern House Makes Better Living

Uncle Sam Becomes Interior Decorator for Defense Workers

BY ELEANOR RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam is drifting into the home decoration field, through his defense housing activities. It seems the two fields are so closely connected that one inevitably leads to the other. With 90,500 family units government-built or building last year, and an estimated 200,000 due for '42, no wonder trends of interior styling are feeling the effects of the defense program and may for many years to come.

Let the case of Miss Gladys Miller, home-planning consultant for the Public Buildings Administration, which undertook 36,000 dwellings last year, show you how one thing leads to the other.

Miss Miller, wise in decorating, furniture designing, and merchandising, is employed part-time by the Public Buildings Administration to give its architects the woman's point of view about home planning.

She helps them work out inexpensive plans for dining alcoves, so the families won't have to eat in the kitchen She sees that doors do not open the wrong way for harried housewives. She contrives ways to make $3500 Lanham Act houses seem to be bigger and more spacious by arranging partitions, doors and closets. She works with color consultant Fred Rahr to see that his warm vari-colors harmonize with the inner tints.

To find out the actual living habits of the families occupying the PBA houses, friendly Gladys Miller takes a lot of field trips and discusses problems with wives of soldiers and sailors and workers in war industries.

"Biggest difficulty is the inadequate supply and exorbitant cost of furnishings," says Miss Miller. "I found one woman in Norfolk who had spent over $800 to furnish two rooms. Even on an average defense worker's pay of $50.79 a week, that's ruinous." Miss Miller added that until distributors can get supplies to jam-packed boom areas, talking about style and taste in furniture is just a waste of words.

When she came to projects like the one in Clifton, N. J., near metropolitan supplies, however, she ran smack up against the question of choosing furnishings poperly scaled to fit the small low-cost houses.

"The huge sofas which are grand for farm houses and old-fashioned sprawly rooms, just don't go in 11x14-foot living rooms," Gladys Miller reminds you ruefully. "But lots of people are used to them, and lots can't find anything else—so there they are, filling up half the room, and more than likely cutting off a third of the light from a double window."

The exploring consultant also found wives tearful about the doorless closets and kitchens—economy measures in most defense houses. She found those who bemoaned the lack of an entrance hall. And when it came to advice on dressing tables—she found demand was 100 per cent.

Anyone who talks to Gladys Miller five minutes can see she has a soft heart—and all those appeals from puzzled, striving homemakers struck and called for action.

On the spot Miss Miller handed out hints for chintz closet curtains to harmonize with dressing tables and for kitchen screens and drapes. Back in Washington she is still drawing up plans for new devices—a combination desk-bookcase-cupboard which can act as partial entrance mask was one.

But, being in close contact with the country's furniture designers and buyers—for three years she has been decoration editor of a leading fashion magazine—she goes even more directly to the heart of the matter. She speaks at meetings of designers and holds pow-wows with merchandising managers all over the country, preaching the gospel of furniture scaled to fit the small house. Of furniture mass-produced along simple, modern, yet comfortable lines of furniture which takes into consideration the human factor of today and tomorrow—the small house dweller who "wants nearly what his neighbor has, but not exactly."

Lumber Used To Make Furniture In U.S. Homes

Materials needed by defense industries are used sparingly in furniture production, according to J. T. Ryan, secretary, Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association, who has just completed a study of the subject. Lumber constitutes about 90 per cent of the materials used in wood household furniture, and we have in this country a plentiful supply of hardwood lumber to meet all defense needs as well as normal commercial needs, he explained.

"Metals contribute less than 2 per cent to the cost of a suite of bedroom furniture, and a considerable part of this is in the work put in at hardware factories, on the raw materials, such as brass," Mr. Ryan said. "The actual cost of the metal used in producing a suite would be only 18 cents of a total retail price of $100. Other critical materials, such as chemicals used in glues and finishes, are used in relatively small quantities when contrasted with the total production."

Despite the fact that government is buying large quantities of wood household and office furniture, the industry's capacity to produce is adequate to take care of civilian as well as government needs, Mr. Ryan said.

"Furniture must be prepared to absorb some of the purchasing power that formerly went into other channels," the home furnishings industry has been told.

Retailers Stop Extra Services

Elimination of many unnecessary services offered by retailers will help America win the war.

That is the statement of Roscoe R. Rau, executive vice-president of the National Retail Furniture Association, and a national authority on retail operating problems.

"Public co-operation will be very helpful in eliminating waste," Mr. Rau said. "The government has asked stores to cut down on the use of trucks which are needed for defense, and to save rubber tires. It may be that deliveries can be made only on certain days each week. If the public ceases having merchandise delivered 'on approval,' at least some trips of delivery trucks can be eliminated. Some unreasonable customers request as many as five or six pieces of merchandise delivered, from which only one is to be selected. That costs money, and the customer must pay for it in the end."

Retailing needs to continue its regular functions, Mr. Rau pointed out, because among its tasks are the maintenance of the American standard of living on as high a plane as possible and the provision of a livelihood to five million persons and their families. Retailers also must contribute a healthy portion of the taxes which are needed to finance the fight for freedom.

Dumbarton Tract Home Damaged by Blaze

Saturday night ablutions of the Erwin L. Blote family at 2931 Crocker Ave., Dumbarton Tract, were interrupted by an explosion and fire which caused an estimated $75 damage, it was reported today.

According to County Fire Warden Bert L. Werder, the blaze was caused by an accumulation of gas in a faulty water heater. The fire mushroomed into the attic of the home but was under control when the fire trucks arrived. The alarm came in at 8:45 p.m.

INDIVIDUAL POTS

Individual tea or coffee pots finished in sanitary white porcelain enamel, usually with attractive contrasting trims in black or red, are ideal to keep on hand for sickroom use. They are handy, too, for "bachelor" girls and for those "live-alone-and-like-it" men who sometimes like to make their own coffee.

Striking Set

Ideal for the collector of curios is this console with generous space for displaying treasured objects d'art, as well as two drawers and two book-shelves.

Regency

The difficulty of getting imported carpet wools is worrying carpet manufacturers, but this season, at least, a wide variety in floor coverings will be available. This striking rug lends a true air of distinction to the Regency room setting.

Always Good

If you're furnishing a home with an eye to the future, whether it be a temporary defense home or a small apartment, this modernized wing chair, with button-tufted stretched back, should come in handy as a comfortable addition to the living room. Made in an ever-popular style, its frame is mahogany; the cover, cocoa colored velvet. The table is mahogany also.

Desk-Chest

This attractive desk, part of a complete bedroom ensemble, resembles a small chest when closed and provides convenient storage space in its three drawers. Typical of the many types of "double duty" furniture now being shown, it is made of rose finished mottled "duranga," a Central American wood belonging to the Catalpa family, and combines basic features of contemporary and 18th Century styling.

CLEAN SILVERWARE

Collect all the silverware for cleaning. Protect your hands with flannelette gloves. (Rubber gloves will tarnish silver.) Use a soft brush to work the cream into intricate pieces. In rubbing, follow the lines of the piece for a smooth finish. Wash pieces in warm soapy water; rinse in hot clear water; polish with a soft cloth.

Health Week Plans Announced by Doctor

In keeping with his policy of the past 16 years which has been providing the people of Redwood City with the most up-to-date scientific equipment for the advancement of better health, Dr. Robert C. Frazier has modern equipment for the diagnosis and treatment of gastro-intestinal disorders. The application of this drugless method of intestinal therapy is soothing, comforting and permits searchers after health to receive adequate treatment without loss of time from work, according to Dr. Frazier.

Using oxygen as a positive agent against toxic poisoning, this tox-elimination method will now be made available to the people of this area although it has been in use in the East for over six years. The entire process is drugless and non-surgical.

Dr. Frazier announces a special health week on Feb. 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27. He has engaged a doctor specializing in gastro-intestinal therapy for this period. This doctor is a member of the clinical staff of the Associated Laboratories of Minneapolis, Minn., and will assist in procedures and recommend suitable treatment to those who make arrangements for this free examination during the above dates.

Persons interested should contact Dr. Frazier, 2024 Broadway, Redwood City. Evening appointments will be arranged.
